

THE AMERICAN FORUM FOR GLOBAL EDUCATION

is a private, not-for-profit organization founded in 1970. Our mission is to educate United States citizens for responsible participation in their own communities, our nation and our interdependent world. We offer consultations to global education programs and for those schools planning to “internationalize” or “globalize” their curriculum. We provide global and international education materials for classroom use and professional development programs for teachers and administrators. We are a forum for the exchange of ideas and practices on content and directions of global education.

For more information about our programs and free curriculum materials, visit our website <<http://www.globaled.org>>

Need more on the United Nations?

United Nations Curriculum Guide

A collection of activities and materials created to honor the 50th Anniversary of the United Nations. The guide is generic and can be used on a continuing basis in secondary education. Divided into units that cover the three purposes of the United Nations: peace-making, peacekeeping and peace building. Gary DeBolt, ed. 1995. Publ: UNA-USA. 124 pp. $25

Visit <<http://www.globaled.org>> for these and other publications of The American Forum for Global Education.

The United Nations at 50: A Teaching and Learning Guide

Examines the United Nations from its creation to its current peacekeeping, human rights and humanitarian roles. Includes strategies for bringing the UN into the social studies curriculum for elementary and secondary students. Created for New York City Public Schools as part of the UNA-USA's UN50 Education Initiative. Includes Peace Quest, a fold-out teaching guide. 1995. Publ: UNA-USA/Scholastic, Inc., 39pp. for Elementary Schools, $10; 40pp. for Secondary Schools, $15

ISSUES IN GLOBAL EDUCATION

This American Forum publication covers the important issues that an interconnected, rapidly changing world raises for educators and education policy makers. Topics have included Sustainable Education, Statelessness in a Global World, Deforestation, Global Ed As a Worldwide Movement and Contending Definitions of World History. Issues in Global Education reports on trends in global and international education, and contains practical activities for the classroom and Internet and printed resources. Issues in Global Education appears six times a year.

Visit <<http://www.globaled.org>> for this and other publications of The American Forum for Global Education.

Issues in Global Education

Sponsored by
The American Forum for Global Education

Chairman: Humphrey Tonkin
Vice Chairman: David Finn
President: Andrew Smith
Editor: Don Bragaw
Designer: Seymour Design
Photos: The United Nations except where noted

The American Forum for Global Education
120 Wall Street, Suite 2600, New York, NY 10005
Phone 212-624-1300 • Fax 212-626-1412
email globed120@aol.com

For their help and support of this publication, we wish to thank the United Nations Public Inquiries Unit of the Department of Public Information, and the United Nations Association of the United States of America.